The accident that occurred on the Hempfield near Rony's Point, Saturday affersoon, was a singular one. The truck from under the tank of the engine got off the track and whirled around, knocking the truck from under the front part of the baggage car. Several trucks were thus knocked out, but when the first one under the passenger car was hit, instead of turning around as the others had done, it stood up straight, and, as the irain was rushing down a grade, the flor of the car for several feet was literally ripped up. The passeng-real happened to be in the rear end of the coach, and were consequently not harmed. Their escape was a narrow one. The cars got off the track on top of an embankment from 40 to 00 feet high. Luckily they were not overturned.

Speaking of State Superintendent of Free Schools Butcher, the Martinsburg Stateman says: We can assure Mr. Butcher that the pleasure of the people in meeting him here, and the interest he manifested in the success of the institute and schools, made him many warm friends throughout this section, which will be evidenced should he ever be before the people again for the responsible position he holds. He is undoubtedly "the right man in the right place."

The Infirmary report showed the number of inmates in June to have heen $2, of whom 52 were white males, 20 white females and one colored male. One white female child was born, and one white and one colored male died. Authority was given to fit up a school room at the Infirmary.

It was resolved to build a bridge over Francier's run, if the city would bear half the expense. A committee of three, Mesers, Nichol, Maxwell and Stocker, was appointed to view the site of the proposed county road through the land of Mrs. Rachel Larkin, and assess her damages by reason of its const uction. olice were complained to, and a watch was set in the yards-and-on-the sidings, but no one was caught, and the thieving stopped. As soon as the watch was removed the stealing commenced again, and again did Capt. Devries appeal to the city authorities for aid. The police could not find the rescal, however, and almost: gave up in despair. Then the Baltimore & Ohio brought on a detective from Baltimore, but he was unable to unravel the mystery, and another detective came. He could do no more than the first, and the journals continued to disappear. It was not so much the value of these journals that caused the Baltimore & Chio people to desire to catch the thief, but the danger that was incurred. Unless discovwas set in the yards and ou the sidings, Sheriff Brown was ordered to be paid $913.75, on account to jury certificate, and $155.48 on account of expenses for deaf, dumb and bind transportation.

The recommendation of the Committee on Pror House and Farm that a lot of fruit trees be purchased, was not adopted, Mr. Speidel objecting to taking the guarantee of the person from whom the purchase was made. A contract ordered to be made with Commissioner Boring for certain work at the Lafirmary farm, was abandoned, a statute forbidding any mee ber of the Board to be interested in any contract for county work.

The local levy for road purposes was fixed at 80 cents for the enauing year, and it was ordered that one-third of the toils received on the Bethamy Pike be expended on the first division of that road, one-third on the second division, and one-third on the S. P. & C. road.

Mr. W.F. Peterson, one of the Directors of nais that caused the Basinete to the danger that was incurred. Unless discovered to be gone, the absence of the brasses was almost sure to cause a hot-box, and the car was liable to catch fire from it and burn. There was also liable to be a break when the train was running fast, involving a wreck.

The city police did not give up, notwithstanding their previous failures to find the man or men that were making way with the railroad property. Captain Bennett and Officer Barum had an idea, and they proceeded to work it up. Barum procured the assistance of a certain man whose duty it was to watch the actions of one Fred Miller, of the South Side, formerly a roller. Last night Barum received notice to conceal himself in a lumber car at the foot of Twenty-third street.

division, and one-third on the G. P. & C., road.

Mr. W. F. Peterson, one of the Directors of the Ohio River Railroad, appeared and requested the Board to reconsuder its former action directing Mr. Speidel, the agent of the Board to pey to the road the $20,000 subscribed by the county, to withhold the money. Mr. Peterson said the Ohio River road had never thought of coming into the city over the B. & O. Company's track, but that a contract had been entered into with the P., W. & Ky. road. He thought the action of the Beard was hasty and ill advised, as the members could have ascertained that their fears were groundlesse by an interview with Col. White or himself. Messrs. Commeford and Woods were disposed to resent this remark, and others thought the action was wise on general principles. Finally on motion of Capt. Prince Mr. Speidel was authorized to pay over the money when he was atified that the road was not coming into the city over the B. & O. Co's track. received notice to conceal himself in a lumber car at the foot of Twenty-third street. This he did, and soon afterwards Miller began operating in that vicinity. With a powerful "jack" he lifted up one end of a car, slipped out the brasses, went and hid them, and then worked the other end of the car. He started to run when he saw Barum, but soon dropped and was locked Miller is a one armed man, having been crippled on the B. & O. some years since. About a year since he sued the company to recover damages in the U. S. Court, but lost the case, the company proving that he was drunk at the time the accident occurred, and was coming down from the Schmulbach brewery with a bucket of beer and foolishly attempted to cross in front of a train that was near at hand. It is supposed that he revenged himself on the B. & O. and made a livelihood at the same time by stealing the brasses.

At Benwood there is a long line of cars standing on the siding that have been robed of their brasses. The B. & O. company feel elated over the arrest, and so do Capt. Bennet and officer Barnum, as they have a right to be.

Last evening about half-past eight o'clock Henry Pascher, a native of Prussia, who has only been in this country about aixteen months, was bathing in the mouth of Glenn's Run, about four miles above the city, when he was taken with cramps, and before assistance could reach him, was drowned. Pascher was working for Herman Weiske, who has garden at Glenn's run. Last night he and Weiske and a boy named Henry Pabler, son of the sigar maker of this city, wert to the river, and Pascher undressed and went in. Young Pebler was about to enter the water when the drowning occurred. Pascher insisted upon Weiske's going in also, but he declined, saying he had been hot all day, and was afraid he would take cramps. Pascher aid he never had had cramps yet, and before entering the water he wet his breast and head, saying that was a preventive of cramps. He had not been in the water three minutes when he began to scream. Weiske, thinking he was in fan, cautioned him not to alarm the neighborhood. He soon saw, though, that Pascher was really in danger, but hefore he cound get jo him the man had drowned. His body was not recovered.
